JOSE GONZALES, A CUBAN COLONEL. FAILS TO MOUNT GUARD,

And the Spaniards Surprise and Rout His Little Army-Details of the Scizure of the Horsa.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 20 .- The Dispatch tomorrow will publish a letter from its special Cuban correspondent, who is on the field near Cumanojagua, in which he gives details of a battle at Jutia, near Clenfuegos. He says the insurgents, numbering 450, well fitted, were defeated by 150 Spanish soldiers, through the negligence of the insurgent commander, Colonel Jose Gonzales, who failed to mount any guards for protection of his camp. When the Spanish forces, who had made a forced march during the night, surprised the camp in the early morning by firing from an adjoining hill, the inforty-two infantrymen, whom Captain Juan lose Campillo hastily organized, and who kept the Spaniards in check for an hour, thus saving the disorganized retreat of the rest of their force from being turned into a slaughter. The retreat of the infantry was later made in good order. Only 250 of the next day, but it is not believed the missing were killed, as most of the fighting was between the forty-two insurgents and Spaniards, both sides being well covered. The Cuban forces here swear vengeance upon Colonel Gonzales, and he will probably be shet.

SEIZURE OF THE HORSA.

Details of the Capture of a Steamer and Five Cuban Filibusters. WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 .- Detailed official information has been received here of the exciting events attending the capture of the fillbustering steamer Horsa and of the arrest, in Cuba, of five of the principal members of the expedition. The information is contained in a long dispatch from Havana. dated yesterday. It stated that on Sunday a boat with five passengers and her crew arrived from Aguedores, six miles from Santiago de Cuba. They said they were fisherthat they were on their way to join the rebels and that they had thrown over their arms when they were discovered. They were placed under arrest. Their names are: Fernando Alvarez, who had a commission of eral from Venezuela; Fernando Mendez. and Leonardi Venent, all Cubans.

As soon as the foregoing dispatch was rered, the men under arrest were identileft that city secretly on the night of Saturday, Nov. 9, boarding the steamer Horsa off Cape Barnegat. In view of the seizure of the Horsa at Kingston, Jamaica, and the capture of five leaders, with the expected capture of others, the details of the expedition are made public. The reports received here show that after a public meeting of Cubans in New York, on Nov. 9, the fillbustering party rendezvoused at the Junta headquarters, No. 66 Broadway, each man carrying a bundle, supposed to contain arms. Later the party met at a wharf where a tug boat was in waiting. A piece of cloth was nailed over the name of the tug. It is claimed the tug moved through New York harbor without lights, to the danger of the shipping there. In the morning the Horsa was met off Cape Barnegat and the passengers, forty in number, transferred Phe Horsa had sailed from Philadelph'a, claiming to be bound for Port Antonio. The party was regarded as of more than ordinary importance, as it was commanded by Francisco Carillo, with Col. Jose Aguirre, second in command, Both of these officers have been prominent in the diplomatic negotiations of the United States concerning Cuba. They were in prison in Havana when the rebellion began and were set free at the request of the American consul at Havana, Mr. Williams, on the ground that they were American citizens. On being released they came to the United States. General Carillo was first appre-hended at Wilmington. Del., as one of the ibusters captured there, but was acquitted. With Aguirre he planned the Horsa expedition and took command of it. After the party had sailed no secrecy was made of the personnel of the party and it is from publications of the junta as to the names of the party that the five arrested in Cuba have been identified by the Spanish authorities as members of the New York expedition. The arrest was made by a Spansh corporal and his guard at one of the block houses along the Cuban coast. After landing part of the men the Horsa was chased by a Spanish war ship, and sought shelter at Jamaica, where the British au-

It can be definitely stated that in dealing with fillbusters against Spanish authority in Cube the United States will not take any action for the sole purpose of securing delay in restoring arms to masters of vessels who, on trial, have been acquitted of the brought against them. Recently a United States attorney instituted a proceeding for libel against a suspected vessel, which was dismissed because of some technical irregularity. To-day he was instructed by the government to reinstate the proceed-ing and prosecute it if, in his opinion, there was reason to believe that a judgment for the government should and could be recovered, and that no proceeding should be instituted or returned to the docket merely for the purpose of detaining arms or men or vessels. The duty and object of the government, this high authority declared, was the observance and enforcement of the laws with rigid impartiality.

Below is a copy (for translation) of an order, believed to be authentic, and issued Nov. 2 by Francisco J. Perez from the head-quarters of a portion of the insurgent forces rating partly in Santa Clara and partly Matanzas. It is dated "Liberating Army of Cuba; Fifth Corps of the Army, First Hrigade." and reads:

Various Rumors Denied. HAVANA. Nov. 20. - The rumors and Surez Daldez, have been killed and that General Luque had been wounded in engagements with the insurgents prove to be untrue, as also is the report that Maximo Gomez, the insurgent leader, was drowned while wading acress the Zaza river. In official circles it is said that the sum and substance of the whole affair is that Maceo and Gomez, described, respec-tively, as the "arm" and "head" of this rebellion, believing that the insurrection cannot continue if it is possible to grind sugar in the province of Santa Clara, where the planters are in sympathy with the gov-ernment, decided to invade Santa Clara, But it is added the energy displayed by General DeCampos has compelled the two insurgent leaders' forces to cross the Zazariver, and it is officially stated that they are now within the borders of the province of Puerto Principe, or the province of SantaClara. Continuing, it is stated that the producing people of the province of SantaClara are now confident of being able to grind their sugar cane and are consequently backing with all their efforts the government and the captain general against the insurgents. The Tameguin settlement has been raided by insurgents carrying arms obtained from revolutionary detachments.

Gomez Burning Plantations. MADRID, Nov. 20 .- According to a dispatch received here from Havana, the Constitutional Union party of Cuba, at a meeting recently held at Matanzas, renewed its adhesion to the government and General De Campos, and expressed confidence that reforms would be introduced at the opportune moment. Advices from Cuba add that Maximo Gomez, the insurgent leader, has reissued orders for the destruction by fire of plantations, and threatening with death all who assist in gathering the crops. The pur-pose of this order is to deprive the Spanish army of means of subsistence in the field.

DEPARTMENT OF THE EAST.

Report and Recommendations of General Miles-Garrisons Needed. WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 .- General Miles, who commanded the Department of the East during the last fiscal year, in his annual report, says the instruction and efficiency of the cavalry was excellent. The instruction of the artillery was embarrassed by want of modern artillery and material, but in their absence the officers have made creditable efforts to keep abreast of the times. The General recommends that the posts be supplied with "sub-calibres" for practice work with heavy artillery, and the enlistment for the long term of ten years of a special class of noncommissioned flicers to be trained as experts in artillery fire. The efficiency of the artiflery was also excellent. All of the infantry in the department and part of the artiflery had been armed with the new rifle, which had given satisfaction excepting in the sighting and some minor defects. The discipline was excellent and the trials by court-martial standing the increase in the strength of the ommand. The consolidated post mess was not entirely satisfactory and the old company mess is believed to be better. General Miles mentions briefly the need for garrisons at the seaboard ports, which subject he has treated at greater length in his report as major general commanding the army, and winds up with a recommendation for new buildings and improvements at most posts in the Department of the Work for the Naval War College. WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 .- Secretary Herbert is pressing vigorously the preparations of plans for the defense of the United States against possible attack by any foreign naval power. Already much has been done by the naval war college in that line during the session just closed, under the Secretary's direction, and the programme for the next session, which begins June 1 next, at Newport, and runs till the 1st of October, just published, shows that the work is to be carried forward without interruption. The principal prob-lem will be the conduct of naval opera-tions in the Gulf of Mexico by an American naval fleet and other work will be the construction of a war chart and defenge plan of Nantucket sound and the general strategic consideration of Delaware and Chesapeake bays. Testimony of the Motorman of the Ill-Fated Car at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 20 .- The most important witness examined to-day at the coroner's inquest in the Central viaduct horror, was Augustus Rogers, the motorman of the ill-fated car which plunged into the river. He testified that the conductor ran ahead when the car stopped at the safety switch and signaled him "all right." He one finding as to the admission of Mrs. stated that the glass in the vestibule was blurred by the rain, and that he did not discover that the bridge was open until his car was within thirty feet of the gate. He then turned off the current, set the brake and umped. He testified that he saw no red light and believed had there been one dismen of Milwaukee, where his main offices that he had been misled by the fact that the electric cut-off provided by the street-rail-way company as a safeguard was out of order. Two other witnesses examined today swore that the red light was displayed over the gates when the car struck them. In the afternoon several witnesses were examined to ascertain whether the red danger light was on the closed gates before the motor car went through them. Most of the testimony was that the light was in of execution, will name Dec. 6 as the date. place. SUBJECTS OF THE AFGHAN AMEER IMPRISONED AND TORTURED.

His Majesty Enraged Because the Mission of His Son, Nazrullah Khan, to England Was Unsuccessful.

LONDON, Nov. 20.-The Evening News publishes a letter from Quetta, a small town in Beloochistan, near the Afghanistan frontier, which states that the Ameer of Afghanistan is greatly annoyed at the failure of Nazrullah Khan, his second son, to arrange for a permanent Afghanistan representative at London during his recent visit to England. In consequence of the persons have been burned alive, a great number of his subjects have been imprisoned, while many others have fled from the country. A notable who accompanied Prince Nazrullah on the occasion of his visit to England, named Kotwal, is to be tortured as soon as he arrives at Cabul. It is expected that Nazrullah Khan himself will be punished, and that possibly he will be banished from Afghanistan. The visit of Nazrullah Khan, the second son of the Ameer of Afghanistan, was one of the features of the social and political life in London last summer. The Ameer himself was invited to pay a visit to the Queen of England, but his health would not permit him to accept the invitation. At first it was proposed that his eldest son, Prince Habbibullah, should go to England instead, but the Ameer, having virtually handed over the reigns of government to the heir apparent, decided that he could not allow him to leave Cabul. The duty of representing the Ameer of Afghanistan then devolved on the second son, Prince Nazrullah. No expense was spared in selecting presents for the royalties of Europe, fully two lakhs of rupees were expended at Cashmere for the purchase of rich shawls and other costly presents. In addition to this large sums were paid of his son's followers suits of clothing, money, etc., suitable to their rank. The eccentricities of Prince Nazrullah amused and astonished all Europe. It was expected on his return to Afghanistan that he would wed the daughter of a wealthy chief. But this part of the programme seems to have been disregarded owing to the disfavor existing because of the failure of the political end of his mission. One estimate was made showing that his few weeks' visit in London cost the English government £6,600 for entertainments and traveling expenses, exclusive of the large bills brought in by the proprietors of the hotels where the Prince stopped, because of the peculiar methods of them even persisting in killing and preparing at the rooms of the hotels, after the "He cannot do otherwise. Nine French Sailors in Irons. BANGKOK, Slam, Nov. 20 .- Nine sailors, belonging to the French gunboat Vipere, paraded the town last evening, assaulted several people and stole liquor from various stores. Finally they accosted a police con-stable attached to the British legation who, after declaring himself to be a police offi-cer, was attacked and his skull fractured by the disorderly sailors. The latter are

His Last Hope Dashed by the Supreme Court of Minnesota.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 20.-The last hope that remained to Harry Hayward for his life was wrested from him when the Supreme Court to-day handed down a long opinion affirming the action of the lower for St. Petersburg, to participate in the incourt in denying him a new trial. The court is unanimous in its opinion, save in Hazeltine's evidence, as to which Chief Justice Start dissents. The court finds no error in the conduct of the trial, and declares that the trial judge was justified in excluding testimony as to the sanity of Adry Hay-ward while on the stand, when no foundation had been laid as to his previous mental condition. It was also proper to exclude the evidence as to insanity of the family under the circumstances. The distinction between insanity as a direct issue and as a collateral one, affecting the competency of Harry Hayward turned pale when the de cision was announced to him, but would say nothing more than "it was just what I expected." He is apparently without hope County Attorney Nye, to whom Governor Clough has referred the fixing of the date

LONDON, Nov. 20 .- Mr. Robert Hardin Milward, the Duke of Marlborough's lawyer who represented the Duke when the marriage settlements were arranged previous to the marriage of the Duke and Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, in an interview here to-day is quoted as saying that the rumors current as to the amount of the settle-ments are grossly untrue. He also de-sired to officially contradict the statement that there is a heavy mortgage on the Blenheim estates and added that the Duke of Marlborough declined to touch a shilling of his bride's money and that the whole of it is settled on her in the ordinary

MONTANA HERMIT DEAD.

Wild Man of the Wise River Mountains Found Stiff in His Retreat.

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 20 .- Pettingill, "the wild man of the Wise river mountains," has been found dead in his mountain retreat. Pettingill came to Montana during the early period of the war and had ever since lived alone among the wild animals of the Wise river mountains. Nothing has ever been learned regarding his life before coming to Montana, though several stories are told concerning his reasons for retiring from civilization. Pettingill had knowledge of a fabulously rich gold vein, but never disclosed its location, though he gave to a party of hunters some quartz that as sayed $50,000 a ton.
